Did you know?

Profile: These whole artichokes are in category of their own. Hand picked, prepared according to traditional methods, and packed in only water and salt, their flavor and texture will amaze you – they literally melt in your mouth! In casseroles, on pizza or paella, in salads – these are without a doubt the best artichokes on the market.

Producer: Navarra is known for big ripe juicy vegetables. It is also the home of the running of the bulls and the St. Fermin festival in which the Cabazones or big heads are worn throughout the streets. Our Matiz Navarro piquillos displays one of these well known symbols of Navarra.

Conservas Pedro Luis is a small family-owned company which processes a wide variety of regional vegetables and works exclusively with the same local farmers year after year to support local agriculture and to guarantee the quality of the product and the Denomination of Origin.
