Matiz Gallego Sardines

Using traditional methods that respect biological cycles, these sardines are harvested off the coast of Galicia, known for its exceptional seafood. Once harvested, the sardines are prepared by hand using old master cannery know-how and then packed with the highest quality ingredients to produce a sardine that is moist, tender, and uncommonly flavorful.

Matiz Gallego Sardines

Using traditional methods that respect biological cycles, these sardines are harvested off the coast of Galicia, known for its exceptional seafood. Once harvested, the sardines are prepared by hand using old master cannery know-how and then packed in Spanish olive oil to produce a sardine that is moist, tender, and uncommonly flavorful.
